ADVANTAGES OF NATIONAL MEMORIAL UNIVERSITY SEEN

Great Opportunity Offered the People
Not Only to Contribute to Proper
Memorial but to Make Great University Possible.

"Poppy Day" offers every person an opportunity of having a part in the National Memorial University.

The hope of every democracy lies in the education of each one of its citizens. What its young people think today foreshadows the nation of tomorrow.

True education roots out bigotry, intolerance, class hatred, and mutual distrust, and implants an unselfish ideal for the advancement of the great human brotherhood—irrespective of rank, race, or creed—that makes the Russian holocaust forever impossible.

Our nation wide public school system is the key stone supporting our whole democracy. Its outspread tendrils touch every home in the land, and through its invigorating influence, mold the coming citizens of each community. Our state colleges and universities exert an ever increasing power in widening the vision of the leaders of the future and in building up a manhood and womanhood that can think beyond the confines of county or state.

But the ideal for which thousands of our finest young men died in the world war will long remain unfulfilled unless there is a powerful agency at work creating a world attitude of thought and action. Never let us teach "America before the world!" It is our sacred obligation to those who sacrificed their lives that our national watchword be "America for the world!" Only by an ideal of service shall we hold a distinctive leadership in the affairs of the world.

No one state is qualified to meet the need. By the assistance of every citizen of our land let us endow a great national university fitted to teach true Americanization, the highest principles of international diplomacy, the finest standards of ethics between strong and weak countries. Centrally located, and directed by the wisest and noblest minds in our United States, it will be a high tower from which may be broadcasted through the lives of our young men and women from all sections of our nation the visions that must become the realities of the morrow.

It is indeed fitting that this university be founded and established as a lasting memorial to our heroes who died to make the world safe for democracy. Through its ever increasing influence down the years, these martyred youths will live in the ideals of a world purified through strife, and uplifted by the gradual perfecting of an eternal peace on earth where "The war drum throbbed no longer, and the battle flags were furled." In the Parliament of man, the Federation of the world.

BALL PLAYER INJURED IN FLEMINGSBURG GAME

Player Injured in Flemingsburg Game
Is Rushed to Lexington Hospital For Treatment.

The Flemingsburg Gazette says: A most distressing accident took place at the ball game Friday afternoon at the school park, when Wayne Gray, a popular young man of the community, was struck by the ball and sustained what at first was thought to be a fracture of the skull. He was at once given medical attention and taken to the hospital at Lexington for surgical treatment.

The accident marred the game and general sympathy was expressed by the crowd which witnessed it.

Mr. Gray with several other spectators was sitting on a bench placed a few feet outside the line from third base to home.

Jim Moxley who was at the bat drove a hot liner over the foul line and it came too fast to dodge, striking Wayne squarely over the right eye. As he collapsed friends ran to his aid and so found he was badly hurt.

Being taken to a physician's office he was examined further and it was found advisable to take him to Lexington. It was feared at first the skull was fractured and the eye ball seriously injured. The injured man is a son of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Gray near here, and it is to be hoped he will quickly recover.

I will call at the home and shampoo your hair for 50 cents. Satisfaction guaranteed. Rose Anderson, 215 Beech street. Phone 780. 26July6t

RAIL EXECUTIVES REFUSE PROPOSAL TO SETTLE STRIKE

Seniority Rights of Strikers Was the Big Difference and Railroad Means
Dishand Meeting Without Action.

New York, August 2. — The railway executives of the nation Tuesday firmly but courteously rejected the program advanced by the Harding administration for settlement of the rail strike.

Willing to accept conditionally two suggestions put forward by the White House—that both sides abide by wage decisions of the Railroad Labor Board and that lawsuits springing out of the strike be withdrawn—the heads of 148 roads declared emphatically that it was impossible to reinstate strikers with unimpaired seniority rights, the third provision in the President's plan. After being told by Robert S. Lovett of the Union Pacific that there was no moral or practical reason for budgeting from their positions, the executives disbanded, caught the first trains for their respective headquarters and indicated that they were going ahead and would operate their roads with the forces they had assembled since the shophmen walked out on July 1.

The decision not to yield on the question of seniority was made known to the White House by telegraph after the rail heads had listened to a twenty-minute address by Secretary of Commerce Hoover, who, as direct representatives of the President, told them in effect that the administration held the seniority question of minor importance in comparison with that of upholding the Railroad Labor Board.

This action was taken in the face of a letter from President Harding addressed to T. DeWitt Cuyler, chairman of the American Association of Railway Executives, embodying "the terms of agreement as I understand them upon which the railway managers and united shop craft workers are to agree preliminary to calling off the existing strike."

President Harding had closed his letter with these two sentences: "I need hardly add that I have reason to believe these terms will be accepted by the workers. If there is good reason why the managers can not accept, they will be obligated to open direct negotiations or assume full responsibility for the situation."

In addition Secretary Hoover had urged upon the executives at their morning session when the text of the Harding letter was read, that settlement of the rail strike was imperative in view of the complicating conditions introduced by the coal strike.

OIL COMPANY RECEIVER SUES ABOUT SIX HUNDRED

Petition Asks Recovering of Dividends
Running in Amounts From Ten Cents to $12,000.

Lexington, Ky., August 1. — Probably the most unique suit ever known in Fayette circuit court was filed today by C. C. Bosworth, receiver for the Bourbon Oil and Development Company, against C. L. Bell and some 600 other stockholders in the oil company.

Besides the 600 or more defendants in the suit, another feature is the amount sued for. The total is not given in the petition, but the entire list of defendants is given with the amount each individual is sued for. These amounts range from ten cents to $12,000.

The suit covers more than thirty pages, twenty-five of which are taken up enumerating the defendants three separate times.

The object of the action is to recover dividends paid to the stockholders of the company in the fall of 1918 and the spring of 1919, when, it is alleged, the company had not made any profits out of which to pay dividends. The receiver sets forth that every investment of the company was a losing proposition and that dividends were paid out of capital stock or money borrowed. The receiver seeks to recover the sums paid out in dividends to apply to the indebtedness of the corporation.

NEW FACES MAY BE SEEN THURSDAY.

Thursday's game between the Cards and Studebakers will likely see some new faces in the line-up of both clubs. The Studebakers are but a single game behind the Cards in first position and will make a strong bid to narrow the gap by working their latest addition "Rasty" Wright on the mound. McCord whose ink on a Cardinal contract is hardly dry seems to be the choice to take the big left hander into camp. It is likely that a trade with Paris will be consummated by tomorrow and that a new face or two will be seen on the bench.

The Studebakers seem to have a surplus of material it being necessary to choose three men from the following: Nutter, Burman, Muth, Amato and Considine. Monhollen whom the Lexington fans christened "Iron Man," but yet won 9 and lost 8 games has been sold to Cincinnati. His place will be taken by Powell of Beattyville.

OUR POLICY:

To support such measures as are unquestionably for the good of Mason County as an entire community, rather than such propositions as are in favor of the individual interest, or of one section as against another. And likewise to earnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the county as a whole.

CARNIVALS EXERT IMMORAL INFLUENCE.

Maysville was visited last week by an alleged carnival which held forth for an entire week on the baseball property south of Forest avenue and although the show did not have great crowds, there were many of our citizens from all classes who visited the grounds during their stay and quite a number patronized the company's offerings.

The company advertised ten paid attractions and a uniformed band. They really had five supposed-to-be shows, about forty-five "joints" or games of chance, and a band made up of two of the company's musicians and three members of our local band.

The attractions the carnival offered were: a snake show, a girl show in which the foolish patrons are made to part with their cash by dancing girls, commonly known as a "Forty-nine Show," a negro minstrel, a boxing show and a girl dancing show. Not a show on the grounds but would have had a bad influence on the young rather than a good influence. Leading up to the location of the so-called shows, were planted the "joints," many of which were in charge of women, who caught many of the visitors by the arm and pulled them to their game. Many of the games were of a questionable character.

This carnival was but a sample of them all. It may be that the carnival here last week was not as good as many, but it may also be said in truthfulness that it was better than some that have visited Maysville in recent years.

The old-fashioned carnival of the better type where all had a good time and the general plan of the company seemed to be to entertain rather than to get the public's money and return nothing, seems to have passed.

It is our opinion that all carnivals have an immoral influence and we believe such cheap outfits as this town has been flooded with during the past several years should be entirely barred. It would be no killing matter to the people of Maysville and vicinity if they were all absolutely barred as they have been in some of our neighboring towns in Kentucky.

THIS WOULD BUILD SOME ROADS.

A friend a few days ago asked us about how much the people of Mason county paid in auto and gasoline tax and how much of that money was spent on Mason county roads. This friend was of the opinion that the county received some part of this tax to be used by the county on the roads of the county.

We have investigated and find that up until the present time, the people of Mason county have paid into the State Road Department's Treasury for automobile and gasoline license, this year, a total of $24,915, not one cent of which goes to the county and all of which goes to the State Road Department to spend on roads wherever they may see fit.

Mason county at present has no state roads within its borders but our County Judge and Commissioners are making special efforts to see if they cannot induce the state road department to spend at least a part of the money Mason county automobile owners spend in license, on the roads of Mason county which are worn out by these same automobiles.

The road proposition is the biggest thing in Kentucky just now and will be for several years to come but there must be some equality about the state road laws or the people will continue to be dissatisfied as they are in Mason county at present. The State Road Department's system may be a good one but we in Mason county know nothing about it.

MAYSVILLE NEEDS PULMOTOR.

Two young men under the age of twenty years have been drowned in the Ohio River within the city of Maysville in the past two months. One of these boys was under water too long to have been revived but the other might have been revived had Maysville been equipped with a pulmotor or some other instrument to produce artificial breathing.

Several years ago Maysville was asked by the Chamber of Commerce to purchase such an equipment to be installed at our fire department but the matter was passed. Since that time several of our residents have met death beneath the waters of the Ohio, the life of any one of which, would have been worth more to the City of Maysville than a hundred such instruments might cost.

Physicians in charge of the young man's body who was drowned Friday night, called for a pulmotor and the fire department was asked to rush such an instrument to the scene of the drowning but the department was compelled to inform the physicians that the city had not provided the department with this life-saving device.

Every town located along the Ohio River should have such life-saving instrument at its fire department.

After this experience, we hope the city officials will act in providing our city with a pulmotor without further delay.

GREAT DEMAND FOR BONDS

Every week witnesses the absorption by the people of huge new issues of bonds. They are of all sorts—foreign, railroad, industrial, public utility, and municipal—and all find a ready market. The purchases of new bonds average $10,000,000 a day. Evidently the country is highly prosperous, despite the efforts of some classes of our citizens to stem the rising tide of business.

Messrs. James Ellis and George McCarthy have become partners with Mr. M. J. McCarthy in the publication of the Daily Bulletin. We welcome these young men into the publication field and wish them well. They are both clever young gentlemen and were brought up in the newspaper game. There is every reason that their connection with the management of our oldest contemporary will benefit that old and honored journal.

The Chickens, God Bless 'Em, are wearing fewer but finer feathers as the summer season advances.

UNCLE TED'S BED-TIME STORIES.

Excitement was rife in the household. Uncle Ted had just received a radiogram informing him that his sister would arrive in New York in a few days, after a long visit abroad. She expressed the hope that he might meet her at the dock. He decided he would do so, and started to pack his grip.

"Oh, Uncle Ted, can't we go too?" exclaimed Ruth and Jack in unison. Mother was astounded at the question, but after pondering a moment Uncle Ted replied: "Why not? It is time you saw something of your country and its great metropolis, and I'll tell you what we will do: We will visit Washington on the way back home and you can put in a few days at the National Capital and see all the sights."

There was an ecstasy of delight and Uncle Ted was smothered by legs and arms and sweet young bodies. Mother had a hundred objections to make, each one nipped in the bud, and three hours later a starchy little girl, a cocky little boy, and a kindly man were aboard the train and hoping that the railroad strike would not leave them stranded on the prairies. They arrived in New York in due time, met Aunt Ina, and soon proceeded to Washington. Aunt Ina was a progressive woman, and her first desire was to meet the Lady from Oklahoma. Representative Alice Robertson, affectionately known to Congress as "Aunt Alice."

The latch-string of Aunt Alice's office hangs outside and it was no trouble at all to secure a shat with her. She had just completed an address which she was to present in the house next day, and since Aunt Ina, who had become somewhat influenced by foreign ideas, had criticized the Republican tariff bill, Aunt Alice took occasion to set her right while the children listened intently to what she had to say:

"When I was a young girl I became stenographer to a commission sent to Indian Territory to make a treaty with the Cherokees. The chairman of the commission, Southern born and bred, had been a major general and prominent in our diplomatic service. Studies of labor conditions and questions of American protection and foreign free trade had been a passion with him. From him I first learned that America's battles, America's victory, America's lasting freedom and prosperity lay in protection. He was insistent that America's greatest warfare was to be for her homes, to keep her people above the horrors of foreign free-trade laborers. From that time free trade and protection have been my constant study, not from the standpoint of a lawmaker but of a plain American woman. There is no argument that I have ever found favoring free trade that has not been completely demolished in consideration. If we had before us a health chart of American prosperity—such a chart as is made for hospital patients, and you could follow with me the up and down warring line of depression and prosperity, it would startle you to see how this line has followed a protective tariff."

"There is in the heart of woman, especially the woman who has had the conceded duty, always, of caring for the family and expending the support provided by man, the protector, a keen interest in making the most of what comes to her."

"There is a phase of protection that I have never seen fully explained, at least not by a woman. I think you and I will agree that there is nothing in a woman's life quite like shopping."

Aunt Ina, who had returned with three trunks filled with French luxuries, agreed. Aunt Alice continued:

"Men do not know how fascinating it is. Marketing may be a drudge, but shopping is a delight. The great department stores in our large cities are the most seductive places on earth. First there is the appeal of advertisements of about everything in about every store 'below cost.' And how women fall for those 'bargains.' We do not stop to consider that if there are actual 'reductions' and 'below cost' sales there must be some tremendous profits to more than balance them, because of the millions and millions of capital invested in these stores and the other millions spent in advertising and like endless expenses. But are they really bargains? Why, we are old that the profits on imported wares run from 100 to 2,000 per cent. The thoughtless woman who buys the imported hose or gloves or dress pattern little realizes that she may be contributing towards her husband's or son's or daughter's idleness. We do not realize what the continued buying of foreign-made goods may mean. We do not stop to consider that every dollar's worth, every hundred dollar's worth, every thousand dollar's worth, every million dollar's worth of imported goods that are bought displaces just that amount of American goods and deprives our working men and women of just so much wages. Combine the words 'imported' and 'reduced' and the bargain becomes irresistible."

"And so we must be protected against our own acts. A protective tariff is a national safeguard. It directly and indirectly protects us all. It promotes opportunity, it safeguards every occupation, it insures us against idleness. We need protection to enable us to buy our homes; we need protection to enable us to furnish them and maintain them. Free trade is not a home builder and our homes are the basis of our fine manhood and womanhood and childhood. The only way to elevate the rest of mankind is to maintain our own high standard and incite their emulation."

"Me for American toys!" exclaimed Jack. "And me for American dolls," cried Ruth. And Aunt Ina pulled her Paquin dress over her French-clad ankles.

"That's right, kiddie," replied Aunt Alice. "And now I'll give you a card of admission to the White House,

CARDINALS' FIELDING AND BATTING AVERAGES

Following are the official averages of the Maysville club as compiled by J. A. Estes the league statistician and include the game of July 27. The two games of Saturday and Sunday with Lexington if included would have a tendency to increase these figures for perfect fielding and a total of 25 hits were registered in these games. The Cards seem unable to improve their hitting position and are considerable below the .250 mark, wit not an individual player above .300.

Why not adopt for breakfast or lunch, Grape-Nuts with cream or milk and a little fresh fruit—and turn off the internal heat? Here's complete nourishment, with cool comfort.

Grape-Nuts contains all the nourishment of whole wheat flour and malted barley, including the vital mineral elements and bran "roughage," and it is partially pre-digested in the long baking process by which it is made.

There's a wonderful charm for the appetite in the crisp, sweet goodness of this ready-to-eat food, and fitness and lightness afterward, which meet summer's heat with a smile.

CLUBS TO BE ORGANIZED FOR FARM WOMEN

Effort is Being Made By College of Agriculture Experts to Aid the Kentucky Farm Women.

Lexington, Ky. — Definite plans whereby better methods of home making can be presented to Kentucky farm women and girls during the coming year by the organization of community and county clubs are being worked out by home demonstration specialists of the College of Agriculture. It has been announced by Miss Mary May Miller, field agent in foods.

Organization of the clubs in counties having home demonstration agents is scheduled to start in September while the programs of work which will be selected by the various organizations are expected to get under way early in October.

Nine series of important home subjects will be presented to the clubs from which each club will select its particular line of work for the coming year. The nine series will include one each in foods, textiles and clothing, child care, health and sanitation, gardening, home improvement, poultry, home management and clothing efficiency. Detailed phases of each of these subjects will be outlined for study with the idea of furnishing material for an entire year's work. The program in foods, for instance, will include a study of fruits and vegetables, baking in the home, meals for the family, the school lunch, dairy products and meat in the home. A similar division of subjects will be made in each of the other eight series.

It is expected that a number of enthusiastic women's clubs will result from the new plan. A small number of interested workers in each club rather than merely large memberships will be the aim of the movement to stimulate interest in better home making and put the best methods of home management into practice. It is hoped that as many as five strong clubs can be organized in each of the 26 counties that have a home demonstration agent at the present time.

New York Letter

by Lucy Jeannie Price

New York. — Without a doubt, the most uncomfortable and sympathy-deserving people in this whole great city these days are the fur models. "Why pick out July and August to sell furs to the retailers, I don't know," one of them was lamenting the other day. "The public won't begin buying until November. You'd think they could wait another month before getting stocked up. But no! They are filling Manhattan — buyers from everywhere, El Paso to Portland, Maine. And the hottest hours of the hottest days, we have to parade about the room swathed in furs to our ears, while the buyers sit and watch us with their coats off, hats off and palm leaf fans waving. The worst of it is we are most of us in muslin comedy in the winter time and we don't dare even to let ourselves get too thin."

I often wonder what would happen to big business executives if they were mistaken as often as are heads of our big cities. Business would go to pot, I'd say, or more likely, there would be a shifting of jobs! The ease with which city departments may reserve themselves is demonstrated in the recommendations of the Mayo's Committee, reviewing the recent subway fire.

The report says that all the suffering of passengers was caused by smoke from burning insulation aggravated by the panic, and that no poisonous gases were generated by the pyrene fire extinguishers. Quite different from the condemnation of the extinguisher given out before there had been time for an investigation. The officials now try to make amends: "In the meantime our study of the results of the use of pyrene in this instance conclusively shows that its use was in no way dangerous or even discommoding. The continued efficient operation of the subway is essential to the life of the city, and this efficient operation requires the use of some immediately available fire extinguisher in case of electric short circuits, which are always possible of recurrence." They went on to explain that the Pyrene composition is the best known and most universally accepted extinguisher for this purpose and that "Nothing has been discovered to justify its discontinuance."

Clyde W. Carter, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress in a Brooklyn district, has won a victory in the preliminaries which was almost as difficult and as complicated as any conquest he may make at the polls. His landlady, Mr. Carter says, is a good Republican, and he believes that she is already working for her party. For she took away his electric bell. Now a door bell is an essential to a candidate, next only to a pleasant smile. And Mr. Carter claimed it was with that realization in mind that his callers were cut off in this resourceful manner. The court upheld his plea and his door-bell is now ringing merrily once again.

John R. Voorhis is not only president of our Board of Elections, and one of the leading Tammany sachems, but he is 93 years old. He celebrated his birthday by walking to work—and it was two or three miles from his home to the City Hall. "It all shows what a good thing public life and election contests are for a man's health and spirit," says he.

Sir Arthur Wing Pinero is planning to come to New York in person to direct the production of "The Enchanted Cottage," which will be put on here this coming season. It has been some time since we have had a Pinero play and the theatrically-interested people of the city are looking forward to it with pleasure.

A woman may not be as clever with a gun as a man, but she certainly is resourceful in the employment of substitutes. Mrs. Haven C. Babb, completely amazed and then routed a burglar who tried to enter her apartment at 3303 Park avenue the other evening — and with a pair of scissors. It was probably the unexpectedness of the attack and the novelty of it which got the best of the intruder as much as its real deadliness. He had already picked up several valuable jewels when Mrs. Babb discovered him, and she carried her triumph to the point of making him turn them meekly back to her before he backed out of the front door.

FARM AND HOME NEWS FROM OVER KENTUCKY.

Orchard demonstrations being conducted by Livingston county farmers who are cooperating with the College of Agriculture extension division are proving to be the means of showing many farmers in that section of the state the value of proper spraying and fertilization in the orchard. County Agent L. C. Pace says. Field meetings recently were held in three of the orchards to point out some of the striking results being obtained by recommended practices.

The use of limestone for soil improvement is on the increase in Calloway county, County Agent J. B. Gardner says. More than 27 farmers have used the material since the first of the year, a total of five carloads having been applied. In addition, two carloads of rock phosphate have been used in soil improvement movement.

More than 2,000 acres of corn and soybeans seeded together for hogging off purposes have been grown this year by Nelson county farmers, County Agent C. L. Hill says. The acreage, which represents a remarkable increase over former years, is well distributed over the county thus making it possible for a large number of farmers to see the value of the combination. Mr. Hill said.

Motion pictures are to have a part in bringing a message of better agricultural and home practices to Union county farmers and their wives, County Agent L. C. Brewer says. The farmers' organization of the county in cooperation with Mr. Brewer has made arrangements for the purchase of a motion picture machine which will be used to show films furnished by the College of Agriculture at Lexington.

WEAK KIDNEYS MAKE WEAK BODIES

Kidney Diseases Cause Many Aches and Pains of Maysville People.

As one weak link weakens a chain, so may weak kidneys weaken the whole body and hasten the final breaking-down.

Overwork, strains, colds and other causes injure the kidneys, and generally when their activity is lessened, the whole body suffers.

Aches and pains and languor and urinary ills frequently come, and there is an ever-increasing tendency towards dropsy, gravel or fatal Bright's disease. When the kidneys fail there is no real help for the sufferer except kidney help.

Doan's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys.

No need to take the statement of someone living far away as evidence.

Here is a case right in this locality. A. Sorries, gun and locksmith, Aberdeen, Ohio, says: "My experience with Doan's Kidney Pills leads me to recommend them strongly. My kidneys acted irregularly and the secretions contained sediment. I had backaches and when I stooped it was difficult to straighten again. Colds always settled on my back and kidneys. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they put a stop to the trouble."

OVER FOUR YEARS LATER, Mr. Sorries said: "I am the same strong believer in Doan's Kidney Pills. I have had no trouble with my kidneys since recommending Doan's."

NO OLD WOMEN NOWADAYS.

Modern dress, hair dressers, facial experts and cosmetics all combine to keep women of all aged young and attractive in appearance. Not until the telltale wrinkles become so deep, the figure stoops, or some ailment or weakness develops to drag a woman down does she really look her age.

Every woman owes it to herself and her family to keep herself young in appearance, and happy. When headaches, backache and "the blues" develop or when a woman reaches the trying age from forty-five to fifty, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound may be depended upon to keep her in health as it has so many other women whose letters we are continually publishing in this paper.

SENATOR REED LEADING.

St. Louis, Aug. 2. — Senator James A. Reed was running ahead of his opponent, Breckenridge Long, for the Democratic senatorial nomination, returns from yesterday's election showed today.

Returns from more than two-thirds of the state's 3834 precincts showed Reed leading by about 12,000 votes. R. R. Brewster, Kansas City lawyer, apparently had won the Republican nomination for U. S. senator. Brewster was piling up a substantial majority over William Sacks, "wine and beer" candidate.

METHODIST LEADERS NOW ASSEMBLED AT RUGGLES MEETING

Prominent Methodists at Ruggles for Epworth League Institute in Session at This Old Campgrounds This Week.

(By J. H. RICHARDSON.)

Ruggles Campgrounds, August 1. — Ruggles Campgrounds is the big center of Methodism for the Cincinnati Area, just at this very moment. Why? Well we have with us our eminent and well-beloved Bishop Anderson. He arrived this afternoon — a day ahead of time — and greatly edified a large audience with his evening sermon. He will remain until tomorrow afternoon, viewing the workings of Kentucky Methodism's first institute in which he is greatly pleased, also to have a conference with the ministers and leading laymen present tomorrow afternoon. Many will be disappointed when they hear he has been here and preached this evening instead of Wednesday evening the time he was expected. But bishops cannot always come just at the time we want them to—we must receive them when it is convenient for them to come. We are mighty glad to have him with us. His fine, democratic spirit and consecrated personality will be a blessing and benediction to our campers. It will go a long way towards establishing the institute plan by his presence and approval.

We have with us another big church official in the person of Dr. F. I. Johnson, secretary of the Cincinnati area centenary headquarters. Mrs. Johnson, who is our dean of women, has been here for several days. Her presence is a blessing to the women and girls. She is to have a great mothers and daughters meeting tomorrow afternoon. The presence of these big church people goes to show the interest they are taking in this great modern development of the church — the Epworth League Institute. More young people are being won for life service in the more than one hundred institutes over our land than by any other force in use in the church. Ruggles campmeeting association is entitled to be commended for falling in line so rapidly with this advanced movement of the church. Many looked forward with a little fear that the breaking away from the old-time campmeeting methods would not please our older campers. All such fears have been dispelled and every one has fallen in line and are enjoying the splendid services being given.

There has been many more arrivals of ministers during the day. Rev. O. G. Ragan, district superintendent of the southeastern district of Kentucky conference; Dr. T. B. Roberts, of Harlan, life service instructor for the institute; Prof. H. C. Roberts, of North Carolina, our recreational director; Miss Nellie Huger, of Chicago, instructor in Epworth League methods; Rev. D. H. Jemison, of Columbus, Ohio, who is the founder of the Kappa Sigma Pi organization for teen age boys, one of the strongest organizations for keeping the boys in the church that has been founded. He is accompanied by Mr. Cutter his manager.

Revs. W. B. Foley, of Catlettsburg, and A. C. Brown, of Dayton, of our own pastors were among the day's arrivals. Mr. Lacey Shirley, of Harlan, is another league representative to register today. The registration is climbing. It is confidently expected that the 150 mark will be passed tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Phillips and daughter, and Commodore Perry, of Newport, are among the campers for the week.

Miss Edith Maltby, of Northampton, Mass., and Miss Frances Thomas, of Hillsboro, Ind., are visitors at the Kelley-Marshall cottage.

Give us another credit. At this very moment we are enjoying another deluge of rain. Just as the evening service was over it came, and it has the sound of a soaker again. Prayers of Ruggles campers are being answered.

After our first day's real institute experience we can truthfully say it's the best day of real constructive religious work we have seen on the camp ground. From the moment of the morning watch hour at which there was the biggest crowd ever assembled at that early hour for a service, and at which service Rev. Foster led in the devotions, there was something doing every moment until 12:30—the lunch hour. It was our privilege to be in classes taught by Stewart Patterson, Edward Brown, R. B. Foster, Nellie Huger and we can testify to their ability as instructors. And those who attended other classes are loud in their praises of their instructors. The recreational periods were very enjoyable. It is indeed a blessed change from the

PARK UNDER THE MANAGEMENT OF LEGION NEXT WEEK

Beechwood Gate Goes Under Management of Legion Post Sunday for Eight Days.

The Beechwood Park Company issues this official statement: For the information of the public and patrons of Beechwood Park the regular park management of Beechwood wishes to announce that for the week of the chautauqua, August 6th to 13th the management and operation of the grounds will be turned over to the chautauqua committee of the Leslie H. Arthur Post of the American Legion.

The morning, afternoon and evening gate admissions to the grounds or Chautauqua, will be one and the same, 15 c., a Chautauqua ticket. All other gate admission tickets and passes for the park are void for Chautauqua week.

The bathing beach and bath house will continue to operate as usual subject to the Chautauqua gate admission.

To the many who are enjoying a daily or frequent swim in the beautiful Ohio during this hot weather, we would suggest the desirability and economy of the purchase of a chautauqua season ticket. A swim in the Ohio and basket lunch on the ground in between the afternoon and evening programs is just the idea.

The entire proceeds at the gate go to the Leslie H. Arthur Post with no rental charge for the grounds, in accordance with agreement made last year.

Let's make this Chautauqua a big financial success for the Leslie H. Arthur Post as well as a most enjoyable occasion for ourselves and families.

old system of leaving everyone to find his own way of entertainment during the interim between services. The whole crowd play together. Old and young take part. Everybody is trying to be young this campmeeting.

A very helpful service was the vesper hour at which time all assembled over at the place for campfires. Another fire was set going and after engaging in mass play for thirty minutes, the crowd sat down on the slope of the hillside and had a rousing community sing. Then "Uncle Dave" Jemison the Kappa Sigma Pi man gave us a very interesting history of the origin and development of his fraternity for boys. This was followed by the evening tabernacle services. And a glorious day came to a close.
